▼ The set holds lots of optional extras such as this small pack holding a 2" mortar.

▲ Note that the decals provided sit on the top of the arm. NCO stripes should be placed below.

▲ Having snatched a Bren gun from a fallen comrade this Sergeant wreaks terrible revenge on Jerry!

▼ The very picture of the British Tommy – laden with equipment and steadfastly taking the fight to the enemy...

▲ We've included Thompson SMGs for those of you wanting to paint your miniatures as Canadian troops...

As you'd expect from Warlord Games' plastics there is a huge amount of variety to be found within the sprues.

This box gives you enough men to form an understrength platoon (platoons were always thus) of late war British or Canadian infantry. A Platoon was made up of three sections of ten men, though it could be as low as five depending on casualties, leave, etc.

▼ This officer was made by attaching a hand holding the Webley revolver to arm 30.

▲ The section was based around the Bren light machine gun – all members carry magazines to keep it fed.

▼ This set contains stacks of optional extras such as this arm lobbing a grenade!

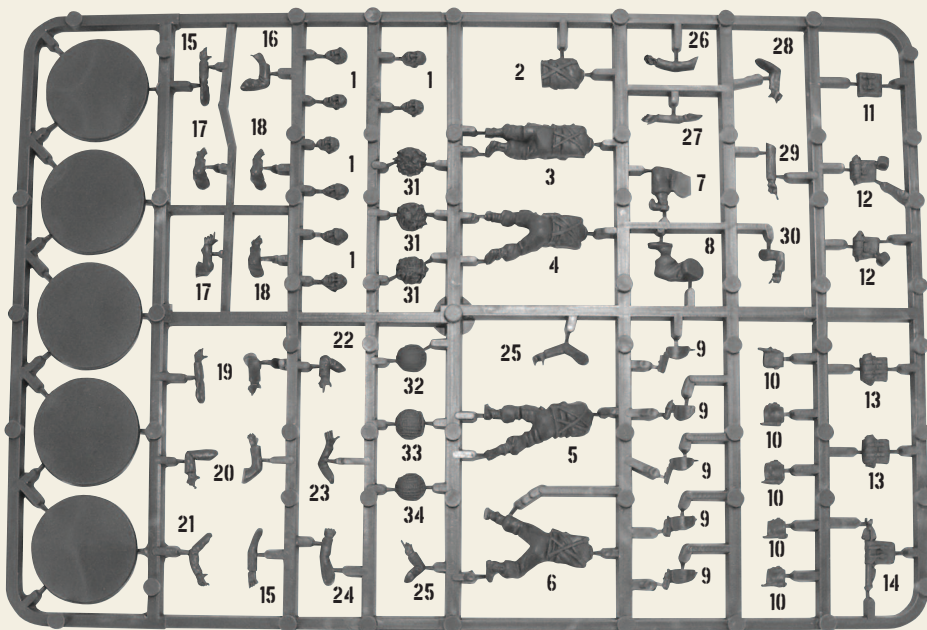

▲ This soldier is preparing his 2" mortar for action – don't let the Sarge catch you not wearing your helmet!

▼ The British soldier was liberally equipped with shovels, pickaxes and his trusty tea mug!
