- ▼ This German NCO is identified as such by the patch on his arm. Such details add an extra level of realism to your models

- ▲ A thin strip of plasticard has been added as a rifle strap to this officer

- ▲ This set's multi-pose nature is shown here as the firing arms have been dropped into an advancing position

- ▼ Toting a panzerfaust this soldier also carries a Walther P38 pistol as a back-up weapon

- ▲ For soldiers armed with the MP40 simply glue the MP40 pouches over the rifle pouches

German Infantry body sprue contents:

As you'd expect from Warlord Games' plastics there is a huge amount of variety to be found within the sprues. All arm combinations work with each of the bodies and you can also find interesting combinations as you mix and match components to make officers, NCOs, etc.

The separate equipment packs mean you can decide to leave them off to represent motorised grenadiers or attach them for the typical landser.

◀ With his peaked cap, Walthers P38 pistol and field glasses this model is the very depiction of the German officer in the field!

▼ The plastic miniatures in this set are compatible with the metal Bolt Action Waffen-SS range thanks to the Figure Head system. This means you can swap heads between the two ranges for even more variety as shown in the two examples below...
